THURSDAY OCTOBER 2,
9:30-11:30 AM
OAK ROOM AT THE INDIANA
MEMORIAL UNION

The Indiana Democracy Consortium is happy to host Nicolas Guilhot, a Research Fellow at the Social Science Research Council (SSRC) in New York, and author of a powerful and provocative book, The Democracy Makers: Human Rights and the Politics of Global Order (Columbia University Press, 2005). The book offers a comprehensive and critical account of the relationships between area studies and social scientific theories of modernization and democratization in the U.S. since 1945. Please join us on October 2 from 9:30 to 11:30 at the Oak Room in the Indiana Memorial Union for a panel discussion on how the export of democratic ideas has been appropriated by political and ideological leaders and what this change means for human rights.
